The Position of the Catholic Church in Relation to Labor Unions and Labor Stylics—Its Hostility to Communism, NEW ALBANY, April 1 .- The Cincinnat Gazette correspondent to-day had an intera prominent Catholic and enterprising business man of this city, in relation to the position of the Catholic Church on labor unions and labor strikes

"The Catholic Church is the natural enemy of Communism. All its teachings are against this heresy. From the Pope down to the most humble priest the Church inveighs against it. It denies its sacraments to men allied to the organization. The Church is equally hostile to labor unions and labor strikes. The pastoral letters to the Biahops of the Church forbid Catholics joining labor unions and denounce strikes. The Bishop of this (Vincennes) diocese has sent pastoral letters to all the churches in his diocese, to be read before the congregations, forbiding Catholics to go into labor unions and strikes, and ordering priests to refuse the sacraments to those who do join such unions."

What other preparations fail to do, Hall's Hair Renewer surely accomplishes the read before the congregations, forbiding Catholics to go into labor unions and strikes, and ordering priests to refuse the sacraments to those who do join such unions." The Catholic Church is the natura

"What about those Catholics in this city

"What about those Catholics in this city who belong to labor unions and are now engaged in a strike at the glass works?" asked your correspondent.

"There are not many of them, probably not over a dozen in all who belong to the labor unions here. The pastoral admonition of the Bishop applies to them and is enforced against them by the churches here. The same is true of the few Catholics engaged in the glass works strike. The Catholics who go into these unions are not of the representative class. They are ignorant, unfaithful to the canons of the Church, are not recognized as of the true faith, and are not permitted, while in the unions, to partake of the sacraments of the Church. You may state these facts in the Gazette without lear of successful contradiction. Not a single one of the glass works or any other strikers has ever received accent of all from any Catholic contradiction. class works or any other strikers has ever ecceived a cent of aid from any Catholic society or church, to aid them in main-aining the strike. The Catholic Church s opposed to labor strikes, and uses all its nfluence and discipline to prevent them. If the Protestant churches did the same If the Protestant churches did the same thing there would be very few laborstrikes in America, and they would be very far between. I regard labor unions, as at present constituted, the worst enemy the workingman has, and it is in these unions all the troubles that befall the laboring classes are generally concocted. You may depend upon it I have given you a true statement of the position of the Catholic Church, and I trust you will publish what I have said in the Gazette so that the public may know through its wide circulation that the Church disaproves everything savoring of Communism and secret, mischlevons organization."

The Dignity of Mousekeeping Where is there any station higher than he ordering of the house? While the husband has to vex himself with outward natters, while he has wealth to gather and secure, while perhaps he takes part in the dministration of the State, and every where depends on circumstances; ruling nothing, I may say, while he conceived hat he is ruling much; compelled to be but politic where he would willingly be reasonable, to dissemble where he would be open, to be false where he would be upright; while thus for the sake of an obect which he never reaches he must every moment sacrifice the first of objects, harmony with himself, a reasonable house wife is actually governing in the interior of her family; has the comfort and activity of every person in it to provide for, and make possible.

What is the highest happiness of mortals f not to execute what we consider right and good, to be really masters of the means conducive toour aims? And where means conductive to the should or can our nearest aims be but in the interior of our home? All those indispensable and still to be renewed supplies, where do we expect, do we require to find them, if not in the place where we rise and where we go to sleep, where kitchen and cellar, and every species of accommodation for ourselves and ours is to be always ready? What unvarying activity is needed to conduct this constantly recurring series in unbroken living order? How few are the men to whom it is given to return regularly like a star, to command their day as they command their night; to form for themselves their household instruments, to sow and to reap, to gain and to expend, and to travel around their circle with perpetual success and peace and love!

It is when a woman has attained this she procures her husband genuine inde-pendence, that which is interior and do-mestic; whatever he possesses he beholds secured; what he earns, well employed; and thus he can direct his mind to lofty objects, and if fortune favors he may act in the state the same character which so well becomes his wife at home.—Gathe's "Withem Meister."
